

THE SISTERS SPEAK

From time to time we receive letters from our students, our graduates, and their major superiors. These unsolicited declarations attest to the fact that the Providence College Summer School of Sacred Theology for Sisters achieves its objectives, namely: (a) to enrich the spiritual lives of the Sisters; (b) to prepare them to direct the spiritual formation of others; and (c) to instruct teachers in the fundamentals of the sacred sciences. Moreover, these writers are especially impressed by the spirit of peace and joy that results from intellectual stimulation in a relaxed atmosphere. In the following excerpts, the Sisters speak.

"I wish to express my gratitude for the wonderful work you Dominican Fathers are doing in offering this course in Theology for the teaching Sisters. What was given us in class with such lucidity — due to the background and to thorough preparation on the part of our professors — is something to influence a lifetime. But what 'overflowed' from the religious life of the professors — an intonation or an aside that threw such profound light — shows that we are getting something whose value cannot be expressed."

A Sister of the Congregation of Notre Dame

"The Sisters who studied at Providence College have profited greatly from their courses. . . They liked the spiritual atmosphere, the courses, the cordial hospitality, and the beautiful surroundings."

A Mother General of the Religious Sisters of Mercy

"The Fathers are such competent masters, edifying priests and religious that the joy and peace which reigns on the campus is of your making."

A Sister of Notre Dame de Namur

"The three summers I was privileged to spend in Providence College are of great value in my spiritual life and in my work with students. Perhaps the most noteworthy thing about Providence is that the teachings of its priest-professors are so evidently an overflow of their life of contemplation. It is for this that we are most grateful."

A Religious of the Sacred Heart of Jesus

"I assure you of my joy at the prospect of another stimulating year under the guidance of the Dominican Fathers. . . .

We, the teaching Sisters are very fortunate in having such a splendid program of theological studies offered to us by outstanding religious professors. I consider the theology course one of the great graces of my religious life."

A Sister of Saint Anne

"I wish to express my appreciation for all the good that the Dominican Fathers are doing through these Theology Courses to enrich the minds of the teachers and to fire their hearts with a greater love for God and zeal for souls."

A Provincial of the Congregation of Saint Joseph

"The nuns speak so beautifully of the kindness extended to them, the excellent courses, and the spiritual atmosphere of your campus. We are deeply grateful to the Dominican Fathers. Your reward will certainly be the blessing of God on your work. Surely our nuns will be better religious for having been at Providence, as well as better teachers of religion."

A Provincial of the Order of Saint Ursula

"I have no doubt that, far from growing dim, the vistas opened for us at Providence College will grow even richer in retrospect. Other schools may probe the same sublime truths, yet here in the setting of an atmosphere unique to Providence College, their beauty is enhanced."
